I've stared at all the walls,
I've looked down upon the floor
Life still found me, catching my eye
Like a wave that's washing ashore, it's just too hard to ignore

I've often heard the expression
You don't know what you got 'til it's gone
Life still found me, running away
Caught up to me, shoutin' out loud, do you mind if I run along?

Chorus

Life still finds me everyday,
I no longer feel pursued
We check my moral compass,
Lighten my load, adjust my attitude, and my faith is renewed
